Quilt Show Announces new Board Members

The non-profit organization, SSJ, Inc., better known as Sisters Outdoor Quilt Show, has added two new members to their board of directors. The group welcomes Sharyl Parker McCulloch and Jeri Buckman to the board. Sharyl has worked with the Oregon Travel Information Council as the Industry Development Manager, driving projects that serve the tourism and transportation industries. Her efforts there focused on enhancing the state-wide profile of tourism-related businesses to the traveling public. She is the former Executive Director of the Oregon Restaurant Education Foundation and was a driver in forming the first foundation in the United States to implement curriculum for the national school-to-career program called ProStart. Several Central Oregon High School's culinary departments participate in this two year, quality-driven program. She brings skills in marketing & promotion, organizational management, creativity and event management experience to our board.

Jeri Buckman is the Events Director at the Sisters Country Chamber of Commerce. She serves on the board of the Oregon Festivals & Events Association, volunteers for Sisters Rodeo, Sisters Folk Festival's My Own Two Hands fundraiser and helps out with various activities in Sisters schools. Jeri brings us a wealth of contacts both within and outside the Sisters business community. Her event planning experience will be invaluable to use as we plan for the future of our show & related events.

The Quilt Show board of directors also includes Jean Wells Keenan, Rosie Horton, Myrna Down, Valori Wells Kennedy and Joyce Boyd. The board is meeting in late July to plan for the next five years of the show. They are asking community members to participate by completing a short survey about their experience with the show, what they like, and suggestions they have for its future. If you'd like to complete the survey, please go to <http://www.surveymonkey.com/s/L95S8G5>.
